

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleansing without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

A Serious Charge.

William Bowser, colored, was arrested on a warrant by Officer Snyder at the Bay Line wharf yesterday afternoon, charged with attempting to poison his wife, Josephine Bowser, living at No. 1 Nicholson street. The woman called on Chief of Police King yesterday with two bottles, both of them containing carbolic acid, but one being mixed with wintergreen to kill the odor of the acid. The woman alleged that her husband had poured a part of the contents of one of these bottles into a glass of whiskey, which he gave her to drink. She took a swallow and burnt her mouth. This led her to an investigation. William will answer in the Police Court this morning.

Corporation Court.

The Corporation Court was engaged all day with the case of William Wright, on trial for the murder of Thomas Bridges, in King's lane on February 13th last. The Commonwealth was represented by Messrs. Baum and Tilson and Mr. Julius T. Saunders represented the prisoner, getting him off with a verdict of voluntary manslaughter, with penalty affixed at three years in the penitentiary, a much lighter sentence than it was thought he would receive. A motion for a new trial was made and will probably be argued Wednesday next. The killing occurred, it is thought, over a crap game, and the fatal blow, or blows, rather, inflicted with a spade, there being two lies, which made it uphill work for the defense to prove that the killing was involuntary.

AMUSEMENTS.

"IN MIZZOURI."—Theatre-goers who have been seen Nat. Goodwin in any but the lighter roles of his artistic career, turned out en masse last night, despite the stormy weather, and when the curtain rose, revealing the homely and realistic stage picture of Jo Vernon's old Pike county home, not another seat could be had down stairs, while the balcony presented the appearance of a horseshoe parterre of bright and brilliant flowers. Goodwin in the role of Jim Radburn, in Augustus Thomas' worthy companion piece to "Alabama," a homely idyll of the Missouri river bottoms, was a revelation, when the fact is taken into consideration that in past triumphs he was seen and known only as a comedian of a lighter and more volatile order.

His characterization of the rough, yet innately tender and heroic Jim Radburn, is a creation which gives positive delight and takes the mind of the auditors from the artist and centres it in the character so faithfully, sympathetically and pathetically sketched. In "Goodwin" hands Jim Radburn lives and moves. Mr. Goodwin's support is remarkably strong and such as is seldom our pleasure to see here. Miss Annie Russell, the original of Miss Burnett's "Esmeralda," is the same earnest and pleasing artist as when she first pleased us in her earlier triumph. As Kate Vernon last night she was emotionally strong and in quiet scenes dramatically effective. The "Lizbeth of Miss Ethel Browning" was a delightfully amusing and naive characterization; naturally and effectively portrayed. Vernon gave that homely and impudent character the deft and strong exposition which the difficult role demands. Mr. George Fawcett as Jo Vernon was capital and the awkwardly true-to-life rendering of Dave, by Mr. Louis Payne, was an admirable foil to "Lizbeth's" simplicity. The other members of the company are artists and the artistic stage settings and accessories gave that complete and wholesome effect which so far so rounding out a complete and highly pleasing performance. Mr. Goodwin will be welcomed again soon.

EDWARD HARRIGAN.—Announcement is made of the engagement of the Edward Harrigan Company. This favorite organization comes to the Academy of Music Thursday night next in "Old Lavender."
